

EU-LA Mining & Exploration Convention and Trade Show

METS 2018 Trade Show

10 – 12 April 2018, Madrid, Spain

METS 2018 is one part of MDNP, which is an EC funded project that aims to support a continuous and structured cooperation between the EU and seven Latin American countries, reinforcing dialogue, promoting cutting-edge technologies, strengthening business, institutional and academic ties and opening new business prospects, thus leading to win-win situations between the two strategic partners.

METS 2018 and the MDNP project will strive to build on existing multilateral cooperation and bring together all relevant stakeholders from entities and disciplines linked to the non-energy extractive industries in the EU and the participating LatAm countries.

The METS 2018 Trade Show is not only a prime opportunity to showcase your organisation's/company's most exciting projects and investment opportunities, technology and services, it is also a one-of-a-kind chance to meet with a large number of potential partners on an individual basis and develop new business opportunities.

This event will provide maximum networking possibilities. At METS 2018, you'll be able to find investors, see what other organisations are working on and pursue new partnerships and business relations.

And you'll have all the tools you need to promote your organisation's/company's latest developments, whatever field you operate in, as long as it is around raw materials.

Exhibitors can bring their own stands or rent a booth. You can choose from two different booth sizes, both will include a plasma screen, space to display your most intriguing information and seating where you can discuss future possibilities with interested attendees.

Don't miss the opportunity! The exhibition space is for free!
